

ISO 31000 Lead Risk Manager Course

Course Duration: 40 Hrs.

Course Code: ISO31000-LRM

Course Overview

The ISO 31000 Lead Risk Manager Course is designed to provide participants with the knowledge and skills to establish, implement, and manage a risk management framework aligned with ISO 31000 guidelines. The course emphasizes a structured approach to identifying, analyzing, evaluating, and treating risks, enabling professionals to integrate risk management practices into organizational processes and decision-making.

What you'll learn?

Participants will learn how to interpret and apply ISO 31000 principles, framework, and processes to effectively manage risks. They will gain expertise in developing risk management strategies, conducting risk assessments, designing risk treatment plans, and ensuring continual improvement. The course also covers leadership skills for guiding teams and embedding risk management into corporate culture.

Target Audience

This course is intended for risk managers, compliance officers, project managers, business continuity professionals, auditors, consultants, and decision-makers responsible for risk management within organizations. It is also suitable for professionals aspiring to advance their careers in governance, risk, and compliance.
